About the Fund

The primary investment objective of the Beacon Tactical Risk ETF (BTR) is to seek to provide long-term capital appreciation. The fund is actively managed and aims to provide upside exposure to the U.S. equity markets, while, at the same time, offering downside risk management. The fund looks to meet this objective by investing in the 11 sector exchange-traded funds (ETFs) equally weighted when performance is favorable and reallocating to fixed-income ETFs when equity performance is trending negative.

Investment Thesis

- Avoiding losses is key to strong, long-term investment performance.
- An equal-weighted portfolio of U.S. equity sector ETFs, when stocks are advancing, may provide maximum diversification and help protect from the risks posed by over or under-exposure to any market sector.
- An effective stop-loss mechanism designed to predict the optimal time to reallocate to fixed income may help limit losses that can be detrimental to investment performance.
- A disciplined strategy may help investors avoid irrational decisions based on fear or greed.

Investment Process

- Under normal market conditions, the Fund will invest in an equal-weighted basket of low-cost, U.S. equity sector exchange-traded funds (ETFs).
- When this basket falls by a pre-determined amount, the sector ETFs are liquidated and the proceeds are invested in fixed-income ETFs.
- When the basket of sector ETFs experiences trends positive, the fixed-income ETFs are liquidated and reinvests in an equal-weighted basket of low-cost, U.S. equity sector exchange-traded funds (ETFs).
- The performance triggering the shift from fixed-income to equity ETFs is dependent on the amount of time it takes the benchmark of ETFs to reach its lowest value. The longer it takes the benchmark to reach its lowest value, the higher the required rebound needs to be.

Where BTR May Fit in Your Portfolio

- Equity Exposure – BTR may be used as a portion of your portfolio’s U.S. equity allocation.
- Defensive Equity Exposure – BTR may be appropriate for investors seeking a risk reduction of mitigation solution.
- Factor Exposure – BTR may be appropriate for investors seeking low volatility equity exposure.

Risk Disclosures

All investing involves risk, and asset allocation and diversification do not guarantee a profit or protection against a loss. The investment return and principal value of an investment will fluctuate so that an investor's shares, when redeemed, might be worth more or less than their original cost. ETFs are subject to risks similar to those of stocks, as well as other risks specific to the particular ETF.

ETF shares are traded on exchanges and are traded and priced throughout the trading day. ETFs permit an investor to purchase a selling interest in a portfolio of stocks throughout the trading day. Because ETFs trade on an exchange, ETF shares are bought and sold at market price (not NAV). The prices of ETFs may sometimes vary significantly from the NAVs of a ETFs' underlying securities. Brokerage commissions will reduce returns.

The Beacon ETFs are distributed by Northern Lights Distributors, LLC, member FINRA/SIPC. Beacon Capital Management & Sammons® Financial Group, Inc. are independent of and not affiliated Northern Lights Distributors, LLC.
